Remembering the Feast of the Beheading – Saint John was a holy prophet and an innocent man (see Mark 6:14-30). His beheading was a preview of the crucifixion of Our Lord; the Innocent Lamb Who is greater than all the prophets. A Strict Fast from meat and dairy is observed on this day, September 11th, in commemoration of the murder of the man Jesus called, "the greatest man born of woman." Also, in commemoration of the way that St. John was martyred, pious Orthodox will not eat from a plate but only from a bowl, will not use knives to eat with, and will not eat foods that are round or come as a 'head' (cabbage, lettuce, etc.).

SUNDAY'S SCRIPTURE READINGS

Epistle: 2 Corinthians 4:6-15

⁶ For it is the God who said, "Let light shine out of darkness," who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ.

⁷ But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, to show that the transcendent power belongs to

God and not to us.⁸ We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair;⁹ persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed;¹⁰ always carrying in the body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our bodies.¹¹ For while we live we are always being given up to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh.¹² So death is at work in us, but life in you.

¹³ Since we have the same spirit of faith as he had who wrote, "I believed, and so I spoke," we too believe, and so we speak,¹⁴ knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus and bring us with you into his presence.¹⁵ For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God.

Gospel: Matthew 22:35-46

³⁵ And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question, to test him.³⁶ "Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law?"³⁷ And he said to him, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind."³⁸ This is the great and first commandment.³⁹ And a second is like it, You shall love your neighbor as yourself.⁴⁰ On these two commandments depend all the law and the prophets."

The Question about David's Son

⁴¹ Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question,⁴² saying, "What do you think of the Christ? Whose son is he?" They said to him, "The son of David."⁴³ He said to them, "How is it then that David, inspired by the Spirit, calls him Lord, saying,

⁴⁴ 'The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I put thy enemies under thy feet?'

⁴⁵ If David thus calls him Lord, how is he his son?"⁴⁶ And no one was able to answer him a word, nor from that day did any one dare to ask him any more questions.

LIVING ORTHODOXY

Five Ways to Stay Connected to Christ During the School Year

By Alexia Loughman

Even though we all strive to be like Jesus, not everyone always has a starring role. As your kids head back to school and schedules get more chaotic, take time to remind them that Christ is at the center of all that we do. To honor Him and his example they can do much more than crossing themselves before a test or a penalty kick.

Here are five ways your child or teen can keep Christ alive as they head back to class:

- 1. Support friends and classmates throughout the day. Follow the teamwork mentality of Jesus's best friends, the Apostles.
- 2. Reach out to the new kid. Jesus befriended the people who were "sitting alone in the cafeteria." Building and cultivating friendships can be one of the most meaningful and rewarding parts of going to school.

- 3. Make a joyful noise. Being shy is the easy way out. Christ gave us all unique gifts. Don't be afraid to let them shine!
- 4. Pray with your family. A few minutes praying together every day—whether it's during breakfast or before bed—can help children and parents alike prioritize prayer.
- 5. Give to others. During holiday breaks, take time to give thanks for your blessings by supporting those in need. Participating in a food drive during Thanksgiving break or donating clothes and toys to children in need at Christmastime can be a rewarding way to honor Christ.

LIVES OF THE SAINTS

The Monk Pimen the Great

Commemorated on Sept. 9 / Aug. 27

The Monk Pimen the Great was born in about the year 340 in Egypt. With his two brothers, Anubias and Paisias, he went into one of the Egyptian monasteries, and all three accepted monastic tonsure. The brothers were such strict ascetics, that when their mother came to the monastery to see her children, they did not come out to her from their cells. The mother stood there for a long time and wept. Then the Monk Pimen said to her through the closed door of the cell: "If thou bearest with the temporal parting from us now, then in the future life wilt thou see us, since we do hope upon God the Lover-of-Mankind!". The mother was humbled and returned home.

Fame about the deeds and virtues of the Monk Pimen spread throughout all the land. One time the governor of the district wanted to see him. The Monk Pimen, shunning fame, reasoned thus: "If dignitaries begin coming to me with respect, then also many of the people will start coming to me and disturb my quiet, and I shalt be deprived of the grace of humility, which I have found only with the help of God". And so he relayed a refusal to the messenger. For many of the monks, the Monk Pimen was a spiritual guide and instructor. And they wrote down his answers to serve to the edification of others besides themselves. A certain monk asked: "Ought one to veil over with silence the sin of a transgressing brother, if perchance one see him?" The elder answered: "If we reproach the sins of brothers, then God will reproach our sins, and if thou seest a brother sinning, believe not thine eyes and know, that thine own sin is like a wood-beam, but the sin of thy brother is like a wood-splinter, and then thou wilt not come into distress and temptation". Another monk turned to the saint, saying: "I have grievously sinned and I want to spend three years at repentance. Is such a length of time sufficient?" The elder answered: "That is a long time". The monk continued to ask, how long a period of repentance did the saint reckon necessary for him – a year or forty days? The elder answered: "I think, that if a man repenteth from the depths of his heart and posits a firm intent to return no more to the sin, then God would accept also a three-day repentance". To the question, as to how to be rid of persistent evil thoughts, the saint answered: "If a man has on one side of him fire, and on the other side a vessel with water, then if he starts burning from the fire, he takes water from the vessel and extinguishes the fire. Like to this are the evil thoughts, suggested by the enemy of our salvation, which like a spark can enkindle sinful desires within man. It is necessary to put out these sparks with the water, which is prayer and the yearning of the soul for God".

The Monk Pimen was strict at fasting and did not partake of food for the space of a week or more. But others he advised to eat every day, only but without eating one's fill. For a certain monk, permitting himself to partake of food only on the seventh day but being angry with a brother, the saint said: "Thou wouldst learn to fast over six days, yet cannot abstain from anger for even a single day". To the question, which is better – to speak or be silent, the elder said: "Whoso doth speak on account of God, doeth well, and whoso is silent on account of God – that one doth act well". And moreover: "It may be, that a man seems to be silent, but if his heart doth judge others, then always is he speaking. But there are also those, who all the day long speak with their tongue, but within themselves they do keep silence, since they judge no one".

The saint said: "For a man it is necessary to observe three primary rules: to fear God, to pray often and to do good for people". "Malice in turn never wipes out malice. If someone doeth thee bad, do them good, and thine good will conquer their bad". One time, when the monk with his students arrived at an Egyptian wilderness-monastery (since he had the habit to go about from place to place, so as to shun glory from men), it became known to him, that the elder living there was annoyed at his arrival and also was jealous of him. In order to overcome the malice of the hermit, the saint set off to him with his brethren, taking along with them food as a present. The elder refused to come out to them. Thereupon the Monk Pimen said: "We shall not depart from here, until we are granted to see and pay respect to the holy elder", – and he remained standing in the bright heat at the door of the cell. Seeing such perseverance and lack of malice on the part of the Monk Pimen, the elder received him graciously and said: "It is right what I have heard about you, but I see in you the good deeds and an hundred times even moreso". Thus did the Monk Pimen know how to extinguish malice and provide good example to others. He possessed such great humility, that often with a sigh he said: "I shalt be cast down to that place, whither was cast down Satan!"

One time there came to the saint a monk from afar, to get his guidance. He began to speak about sublime matters difficult to grasp. The saint turned away from him and was silent. To the bewildered monk they explained, that the saint did not like to speak about lofty matters. Then the monk began to ask him about the struggle with passions of soul. The saint turned to him with a joyful face: "Here now thou well hath spoken, and I must needs answer", – and for a long while he provided instruction, as to how one ought to struggle with the passions and conquer them.

The Monk Pimen died at age 110, in about the year 450. Soon after his death he was acknowledged as a saint pleasing to God and received the title "the Great" – as a sign of his great humility, modesty, uprightness and self-denying service to God.

SPIRITUAL VITAMINS FOR THE WEEK

SUNDAY

"To learn whether any particular actions of ours is contrary to God's will we must ask ourselves two questions: 1) Is the action I am planning to take contrary to belief in Christ or not? 2) Is it contrary to the Lord's commandments?" - Priest Daniel Sysoev

"My advice to both the young and the elderly is for each one of you to make a prayer rope. Hold it with your left hand, and as you make the sign of the Cross with your right hand, say: Lord Jesus Christ, have mercy on me." +St. Kosmas of Aitolos

TUESDAY

"My God! Your name is Love: do not abandon, the erring. Your name is Strength: strengthen me, the stumbling and falling. Your name is Light: enlighten my soul, darkened by worldly passions. Your name is Peace: console my restless soul." +St. John of Kronstadt

WEDNESDAY

"Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me." - Psalm 50:10

THURSDAY

"One must guard against complaining, as though it were a poisonous snake." - Abbot Nikon Vorobiev

FRIDAY

"Establish in your heart the following truth: one thing alone is worthy of all our hatred— that is, sin or vice; and towards men nourish exclusively love." +St. John of Kronstadt

SATURDAY

"Every divulgence [confession] of sin accompanied by sincere repentance makes the sinner closer, dearer and more precious to a spiritual father. This is commonly observed. The enemy only frightens one with thoughts contrary to this." - Abbot Nikon Vorobiev

DEVOTIONAL PRAYER OF THE WEEK:

A Prayer Toward the Unknown

O Lord, You who steadied the hand of Peter as he began to sink on the stormy sea, if you are with me, no one is against me. Grant to me the shield of faith and the mighty armor of the Holy Spirit to protect me and guide me to do Your will. The future I put into Your hands, O Lord, and I follow You to a life in Christ. Amen.
